WOLTERS AND GRAY BOTH ARE "MARTYRS"

Austin, Tex., March 6.—The supreme court has disposed finally of the contempt cases against J. F. Wolters and Wm. H. Gray, of Houston, by overruling the motion for a rehearing of the habeas corpus proceedings. This decision frees the two defendants from the charges of contempt and nullifies the action of the legislature in sentencing each to 24 hours' imprisonment in the Travis county jail.

These companion cases are notable not only in the legislative and judicial annals of Texas, but are also important from a political standpoint. Both defendants claim that they were made martyrs of the cause for which they were contending. Wolters took advantage of this alleged martyrdom to become a candidate for the United States senate and he and his friends are making all possible capital out of the alleged persecution which the prohibition faction of the legislature has inflicted upon him. Gray has not entered the race for an office, but he has made the best of the opportunity of his alleged martyrdom by writing a book giving what he claims is the full history of the two cases.

ROOSEVELT IS TART, IS STIMSON REPLY

Minneapolis, L. L. March 6.—Secretary Stimson's speech in Chicago last night supporting president Taft for the Republican nomination brought from Mr. Roosevelt today a tart reply.

"In regard to Mr. Stimson's statement that against my original intention I am being forced by certain persons into the arena this year, I need merely say," declared Col. Roosevelt, "that the statement is correct only in the sense that it would be correct to make the same statement as to my advocacy of Mr. Stimson for governor in 1910. In that contest, as in this, I was exceedingly reluctant to be drawn into the contest. In that contest, as in this, I acted only from a sense of duty to the people as a whole, and in that contest I was assailed with precisely the same arguments by the great majority of those who are now assailing me."

WINNING WANTS

The Explicit Want Ads are the ones that bring the most replies—they are the ones that are read with the greatest degree of satisfaction.

When you write a Want, tell all the important facts. If you are advertising for help, tell just what is to be expected of the applicants. As a matter of fairness, those who seek employment should know all the principal facts regarding a position, so that only those who are capable of filling such a place will be expected to apply.

In looking for a position through the Want Columns, state your qualifications plainly and concisely, tell of your experience and enumerate enough of the facts, so that those who are seeking workers will have full enough information, if they are interested, to communicate with you.

The explicit Wants tell clearly, concisely, in a minimum number of words, just the thought that is to be expressed.
